

Title: Biodiesel on the Road – A Report from Missouri
Author: University of Missouri-Columbia
Publication Date: June 1993

Summary:

Several ¾ ton pickups, farm tractors, airport vehicles, and city buses have been fueled on blends of biodiesel ranging from 20 to 100 percent. Exhaust emissions analysis, engine wear, power, and engine durability were documented. Factors associated with using biodiesel as a partial or total substitute for diesel fuel were discussed.
